DIAZ AWAIT'S ATTACK

SHALL OAKLAND BEAR MISERY OF BURDEN?

FUTURE TO BRING FURTHER HEAVY LOAD OF TAXATION FOR THE CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO

An editorial from the San Francisco Chronicle of today's issue, dealing with the tax-ridden condition of that city, is an incontrovertible argument against the annexation of Oakland and other bay cities to San Francisco so that they may help bear heavy burdens. The editorial contains an enlightening paragraph which reads: "But with the growth of the city we can do with ease what now is an intolerable burden. It might well happen that we could easier pay $5,000,000 ten years hence for a playground than to pay $1,000,000 now." The Chronicle editorial follows:

From San Francisco Chronicle Oct. 18, 1912.
INCREASING TAXATION.

It bears most heavily on the taxpayers of small means.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, the property taxes collected in this city amounted to $8,898,500. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, the auditor states that we shall collect $10,688,463—an increase of over 27 per cent in two years.

And in the next fiscal year there will be another increase. And when we finally settle down to deal with our water problem, taxation will mount up as on eagles' wings.

Of course, our assessed valuation increases every year, but it is largely by increasing the "assessment" on the same old property. There are multitudes of small and moderate taxpayers whose property holdings have not changed at all during the past two years, nor has there been any increase in the income from them. And yet if they will compare their tax receipts with those of two years ago, many of them will find an increase of 25 per cent.

The taxation for water supply will be heavy. We are in a contest with the water company over water rates calculated to yield 5 per cent on about $27,000,000. What rates shall we have to pay to yield the same revenue on the same property valued at $38,500,000 plus at least $10,000,000 more necessary to be at once expended on the property? And plus $45,000,000, and nobody knows how much more, borrowed for the Sierra system.

What are we coming to in the matter of taxation? Every week there is a new proposition to incur bonded debt for something desirable, and in a few cases essential, and every such new enterprise which we take up means an addition to our tax rate. We have thrown the "dollar limit" to the winds long ago, and the supervisors will propose a charter amendment which, while purporting to continue it, in reality abolishes it.

These taxes annoy but do not particularly injure the rich. After paying them and more, they will still have remaining income ample to furnish every comfort and add to their capital productively employed.

The pinch comes on the family of small means, and nowhere more forcibly than upon those who are buying their homes and upon those of small fixed incomes.

Every dollar paid in taxes by such families is a dollar taken from the fund which they are at liberty to expend for their own necessity of comfort. It is mockery to say to such a man that he is helping to pay for a park where he can take his family on Sundays when he needs the money a good deal worse to make a front gate, which he needs every day in the week.

A large number of these projects are for pleasure—parks, playgrounds and open spaces—all eminently desirable, and, as is said, can be got now much cheaper than a few years hence.

But with the growth of the city we can do with ease what now is an intolerable burden. It might well happen that we could easier pay $5,000,000 ten years hence for a playground than to pay $1,000,000 now.

No project gets any public attention which does not contemplate something very desirable. But there is an economic limit to accomplishment even of the essential. The city, like the individuals composing it, must stop spending even for what seems essential whenever that limit is reached.

Had San Francisco in 1906 had the debt which it is likely to have within two years, the city could never have been rebuilt except after a compromise with creditors.

Let us do all we can for the comfort and happiness of all our citizens, but when we have reached the economic limit we must stop, no matter what happens. If we say we are making it more attractive to newcomers, the reply is that we are driving away industry.

Steamship Adrift Near Shore Sends Call for Help

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 18.—According to wireless advices received here, the steamer Camino, which was adrift north of the Umpqua river, has been picked up and is being towed to San Francisco. She had not passed here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Adrift, and Portland for San Francisco, the new coaster Camino is waiting for assistance 15 miles off shore and about 20 miles north of the mouth of the Umpqua river. She dropped her propeller at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Equipped with wireless, the Camino is calling steadily for assistance. The steamer Paiton and Goliah, from Astoria, and the tug Gleaner from the Umpqua river, have put out to the aid of the Camino, according to advice received here by the marine department of the chamber of commerce.

At present the vessel is in no danger but 16 miles to leeward from a range west than Captain Akin could wish should the wind or tide drift the Camino before all come, the passengers

MASSACRED BY TURKISH BANDS

Inhabitants of Three Servian Villages Are the Victims of Slaughter

Montenegrin Troops Meet Reverses and Are in Critical Position

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Turkish bands today massacred the inhabitants of three Servian villages to the southwest of the town of Krushevatz, according to a news agency dispatch from Belgrade. The Turks crossed the Servian frontier from the Novipazar district, attacked the villages and then retired.

The advance of the Montenegrin army on Scutari has been checked by the Turkish troops commanded by Essad Pasha, according to a dispatch from Sarajevo. The Montenegrins are said to be in a critical position, as 10,000 Albanian tribesmen are co-operating with the Turks.

500,000 ARMED MEN.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Half a million men armed with the deadliest of modern war implements, are gathering today around Adrianople, the old capital of Northern Turkey, for what will probably be the last in a long, hard fought and bloody siege.

The Bulgarian army, estimated to number 200,000 men, reinforced by 50,000 Servians, began to fight its way in three columns through the mountain passes which divide the Balkan states from the Ottoman empire. The Bulgarians succeeded in driving back the Turkish outposts, including that at Mustapha Pasha.

The Turks already have 200,000 men in position, and thousands more are arriving daily at the front so that with the advantages the movement may have some advantage in numbers the two forces when they meet will be nearly equal. The Turks apparently are preparing for a great battle and are satisfied now to withdraw their troops from the frontier posts as their opponents advance.

The drama on which the curtain is rising is cut off from the view of the rest of the world, as the staffs of the various armies have ordered strict censorship. One of the rules issued to war correspondents by the Bulgarian government is that nothing may be sent regarding any reverse the Bulgarian army may suffer.

Every dollar paid in taxes by such families is a dollar taken from the fund which they are at liberty to expend for their own necessity of comfort. It is mockery to say to such a man that he is helping to pay for a park where he can take his family on Sundays when he needs the money a good deal worse to make a front gate, which he needs every day in the week.

General Gerónimo Trevino, commander of the federal forces at Monterey, who resigned yesterday, is said to be favored by many military men for provisional president. He is believed not to be implicated in the rebel movement started by Diaz.

NO SPECIAL CANDIDATE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—"I have no mind no special candidate for the presidency of Mexico," declared Félix Diaz, leader of the newest revolutionary movement in a telegram from Vera Cruz to the Herald today. "When

Hurtling Body Badly Injures Chicago Boy

Train Kills Man and Throws Corpse From Track, Striking Bystander.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Frank Schaefer, 19 years old, suffered injuries which may cause his death last night when he was struck by a body, hurtled fifty feet through the air by a fast Chicago, Burlington and Quincy train at Riverdale, a suburb. The man killed was Frank Johnson, of whom little was known and whose body caused the injury to Schaefer.

Walter Arden, the only witness to the accident, thought Schaefer had been struck by a mail bag and ran for help, watching the train found Johnson's body and Schaefer lying.

"It suffered from concussion of the brain and probable internal injury," said the physician who reached the scene and ran to Aurora before he was notified of it.

Wires Prostrated by Wind Storm in Western Oregon

PORLTAND, Oct. 18.—A windstorm, accompanied by rain swooped down on Western Oregon last night prostrating telegraph and long-distance telephone wires in all directions and in Portland playing havoc with swinging signs and here and there with a plate-glass window. Wire communication early today had not been restored sufficiently to say how widespread the storm or how serious the damage. Astoria was cut off from the city and no intelligence regarding the damage before the passengers

CRISIS FOR COLONEL PASSES

Chicago Police to Guard the Private Car Carrying Former President

Good Night's Rest Is Followed by News of His Departure

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—"Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will leave Mercy hospital for Oyster Bay Monday forenoon at 10:25 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad."

This was the announcement made today by Dr. Alexander Lambert, the colonel's family physician, after the examining physicians had issued the following bulletin describing his condition:

Pulse, 88; temperature, 98; respiration, 20. Breathing easier; resting well; condition good, convalescing satisfactorily.

JOHN B. MURPHY, M. D.; ARTHUR D. BEVAN, M. D.; ALEXANDER LAMBERT, M. D.; SCURRY L. TERRELL, M. D.

Colonel Roosevelt declared the news to be the best he had received since he first was assured that the wound would not be fatal.

Preparations for the start were made by Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who has arranged with members of the Progressive party in Chicago to look to train arrangements. Tentative plans provide that Roosevelt shall leave the hospital in an automobile, which will be driven to the Union station.

A wheel chair probably will be there, in which Roosevelt may be carried down the long flight of steps to the train floor. He will have a private car and a guard of Chicago police who will accompany the train to the Illinois state line.

GOOD NIGHT'S REST.

Last night was one of almost unbroken rest for Roosevelt. He fell asleep shortly after 11 o'clock and awoke only once between then and 7 o'clock today, when he announced himself ready for breakfast.

The wound the colonel received at the hands of John S. Lynn at Milwaukee several days ago gave him little trouble. The result of his illness is believed to have been passed and his rapid recovery is expected.

GIVES HIS SUSPENDERS AWAY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The suspenders worn by Colonel Roosevelt on the night he was shot and which are marked by a hole from the bullet, were presented by the distinguished patient last night to Irving J. Kumback, his male nurse at the hospital.

Colonel Roosevelt's attention was attracted to the soiled supporters lying in his room and he called Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Mother," he said, "I think you had better send those suspenders out to the cleaners, hadn't you? They look pretty rusty."

"Mercy!" exclaimed Mrs. Roosevelt, examining them, "you don't intend to wear those ever again, do you? Why, they have a hole in them."

"If you are going to throw them away, colonel, I'll give you my shirt to have them," spoke up the nurse, who was a witness to the conversation.

"Certainly," laughed Mr. Roosevelt, "take 'em away."

TYphoon Does $25,000,000 Damage

Storm In Philippine Islands Extends Over Wide Area.

MANILA, Oct. 19.—Twenty-five million dollars is the estimated damage done by the typhoon which swept the Philippines October 16. The storm extended over a wide area, touching Surigao in the south, Toloan in the north and crossing Leyte, Bohol, Cebu, Negros and Panay.

Reports from the various districts are incomplete and contain nothing definite concerning the rich sugar districts in Negros nor from the interior points in Cebu and Panay.

Five small coasting steamers were driven ashore and a hundred small sailing vessels were sunk or beached. The army and navy have both joined the government in collecting resources of relief.

Apparently there were no casualties among American residents. The total number of dead among the natives has not been ascertained.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Living unconnected with their bonds battered and bleeding, Mrs. Margaret Bell, an aged widow, and her maid, Mary Hogan, were found by the police in their Brooklyn home late last night. The house had been ransacked from top to bottom.

Mrs. Bell was beaten from head to foot and died in the hospital early today. Her maid is in a dangerous condition, but she regained consciousness enough to tell the hospital authorities that it was a negro who had committed her and her mistress.

ATTACK IMMINENT.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 19.—Rebel forces in possession of this city have made every preparation for an attack by federal troops and this is expected to occur at any moment. Two columns of federal arrived Friday within 15 miles of the city.

The strength of the advancing force is hardly greater than that of the rebel garrison. Perfect order prevails in the city.

HUERTA IN COMMAND.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19.—General Huerta has taken command of the government forces operating against the rebels under Felix Diaz. No further defections from the federal army to the rebels have been reported here.

Communication is interrupted between this city and Vera Cruz. Everything is quiet here.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—With two American warships steaming for ports on the east coast of Mexico to protect American interests if need be, State Department officials were concerned over the developments of the latest revolution led by Gen. Diaz.

The colonel, Gen. Moles, ordered to Vera Cruz, should arrive there tomorrow according to the estimate of the Navy Department. The Tacoma, ordered from Bluefields to Tampico, has not been heard from, although she undoubtedly has sailed.

4000 LABORERS QUIT.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—War in the Balkans has created a serious labor situation for the City of Los Angeles and may cause delay in the completion of the Los Angeles aqueduct, according to municipal officials. Wholesale departures of Greeks and Servians who form the major part of the army of 4000 laborers the municipality has employed for the last five years have followed the opening of hostilities between Turkey and the Balkan states. About 4000 laborers have quit work, leaving vacant places for which no laborers have yet been found.

EFFICIENCY CLUB IS FORMED AT Y. M. C. A.

The Oakland Y. M. C. A. has formed an efficiency club for 100 of its members. The young men are to be instructed in the science of living. Leading professionals and business men will deliver the lectures. The first course will begin Monday, October 22, at Mr. Arthur L. Adams' home. The course will consist of "Problems of a Life-time," and the Rev. Wm. Keeney Tower on "Marks of a Man." No fee will be charged for the course.

After closing the course on "Problems of a Life-time," W. C. Barnard will lecture on "Problems of Social and Family Relationships," and Rev. George W. Bates on "Problems of Service."

A course of instruction in first aid is to be given by the physician director, C. F. Martin, and the final course will be on sexual hygiene under the direction of Dr. E. W. H. H.

GOT HIS DRUG IN DENTAL POWDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The length to which drug users are compelled to go in order to satisfy their craving for cocaine and morphine, was evidenced this morning by the testimony in Judge Shortall's court when Lee Wong was convicted of violating the state poison law. Lee had an innocent looking tin of toothpowder and to prove that it contained a delicate dental preparation, he sprinkled it upon his hand. As he shook the tin the white contents struck his fingers. A quick turn, however, of the top showed that the toothpowder was contained only in a false cover and that the bottom contained a mixture of cocaine and morphine.

Sentence will be pronounced Monday.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL AT COLORADO MEETING

GREELEY, Colo., Oct. 19.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, was the central figure at a big gathering of Colorado Democratic leaders yesterday. Governor and Mrs. Marshall arrived from Kearny, Neb., this morning and were joined by Governor John F. Shafroth of Colorado, candidate for United States Senator, and other state leaders.

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that the stomach was the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body." * * * He continues, "so we may be said to live (strong) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no balsamic can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes Miss G. M. Morrison, of Corona, Calif. "Had suffered from it off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver, so I did not dare to eat as much meat as before. Whenever I saw a doctor, he said that I had jaundice. It hurt me. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. I took four bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. Today I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat anything and have put on weight wonderfully. I will say to all engineers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

COMMITTEE DOES
PROMOTION WORK

Manufacturers' Organization of Chamber of Commerce Active.

The industrial promotion work which one organization has been able to do in twelve months for the city of Oakland is set forth in memorandum compiled by Secretary Fred Boegle of the manufacturers committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. This organization was formed exactly a year ago with $850 in the treasury. Since then the following work in general has been accomplished:

Fight for home industry in expenditure of bond issue

Campaign to insure a passage of bond at election

Collection of data and news in the matter of the employers liability law

Discrimination in freight rates inside corporate limits of Oakland adjusted

Pledges secured from city and county officials and private purchasing agents to purchase locally wherever possible

Attention of public officials directed to securing Royal British Steam Packet Company of England for Oakland and action urged

Co-operation given civic association in securing more equal assessments

Agitation begun for admission into North-Western territory on equal terms with San Francisco

Movement inaugurated to stop evasion of law against importation of convict-made goods

Conference called of material men, architects and city officials to end disagreement over appointment of Eastern engineer to supervise municipal construction

Establishment of the Nelson steamship line

Pledge from supervising architect and commissioner of public works to give preference to local products

Pledges from local architects to same effect, inserting preferential clause in specifications. Pledges from local builders to same effect

Compilation of a classified list of all manufacturers and products in Alameda county

In addition to the above general activities the 130 members of the committee hold weekly luncheons and discuss the needs of fellow manufacturers. A tremendous amount of individual gain is recorded through the efforts of the committee to land outside jobs for one another. Three banquets, five excursions and five public addresses constitute a portion of the program of activity.

During the approaching year it is expected that the committee will greatly enlarge its membership and activities

With the exception of the following article, the other powers agreed to similar treatment of Turkey. Italy also agrees to an increase in customs duties by Turkey of from 10 to 15 per cent ad interim and to the establishment of a monopoly or cartel on petroleum, cigarette paper, matches, alcohol and curcubits if the duties are applied to imports from other countries.

In the seventh article Italy agrees to suppress Italian postoffices in the Ottoman empire when the other powers do likewise. In view of the Porte's intention to negotiate with the great powers to discontinue the regime of capitulations and replace it with a regime of international law, Italy in the eighth article declares her readiness to give full and sincere support to the project. In the ninth article Turkey agrees to renounce Italian subjects employed in the Turkish administration prior to the war.

By the tenth article Italy agrees to pay annually to the Ottoman public debt a sum equal to the average revenue for three years preceding the war received by the public debt from Tripoli and Cyrenaica. Such sum, it is provided, shall not be less than 2,000,000 lire ($400,000). Either party shall have the right to demand a commutation of this annuity by capitalizing the amount at four per cent.

The two powers will name the commissioners to agree upon the amount of the annuity and in case of disagreement between the commissioners, provision is made for arriving at this sum by arbitration.

THE OTHER POWERS AGREED TO SIMILAR TREATMENT OF TURKEY. ITALY ALSO AGREES TO AN INCREASE IN CUSTOMS DUTIES BY TURKEY OF FROM 10 TO 15 PER CENT AD INTERIM AND TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A MONOPOLY OR CARTEL ON PETROLEUM, CIGARETTE PAPER, MATCHES, ALCOHOL AND CURCUBITS IF THE DUTIES ARE APPLIED TO IMPORTS FROM OTHER COUNTRIES.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCIES CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY

Judge Ogden and Assistant District Attorney Burpee Seek Remedy

A friend's iteration between Judge Ogden and Assistant District Attorney Burpee over the marked increase of juvenile delinquents committed as county charges formed a portion of yesterday afternoon's session of the juvenile court. The case at issue was that of a lad who was before the court on a previous occasion to answer to a series of delinquencies and who though he was not in court himself was represented by his mother and a young woman friend as interpreter. The youngster who is but 10 years of age has been in America only two years his father having arrived as a naturalized, and pending an investigation into his parents' financial affairs, is a county charge.

"It seems to me," said the assistant district attorney, "that the number of these youthful offenders is increasing to an altogether too marked degree. The cases are becoming legion and the county is spending thousands of dollars each year for children whose parents refuse to contribute to their support. Something must be done to correct this. A halt must be called somewhere."

SEEKS SOLUTION

"I agree with you, Mr. Burpee," said Judge Ogden, "and this very same question has been a source of great mental deliberation with me. I, too, have wondered just how to solve this problem. It's certain we can't please these little youngsters in jail, they don't all belong in the reform school where they can earn their own way, and they have got to go to some place like the court and the probation system. And that same environment is detrimental. And I think you will find, Mr. Burpee, that a good many dollars are saved the county by the juvenile court, for if all these youthful delinquents were brought to trial in a higher tribunal the court costs would amount to no little sum."

"Also, Your Honor," Probation Officer Snedigar here interrupted, "I am sure that the money expended by the county right now in caring for these youngsters who we find on investigation, are worthy cases, will be saved later on when the methods used by the probation system have made desirable citizens out of them."

"Very true," said Burpee, "but at the rate we are going the county will soon be caring for all the children in it."

WONDERFUL RESULTS

"Well," said Judge Ogden, "you know a Spartan government in the olden days made soldiers of the children and the states, made warriors of the men and men of steel, and it seems to me, if I can remember my history correctly, it brought wonderful results. But Alameda county isn't planning anything like that just now. It is trying to make desirable citizens of its boys, and when it has been found to the satisfaction of the court that the home influence is not doing it, then we have got to find some place that will do it."

"But it seems to me that in this instance, Your Honor," said Assistant District Attorney Burpee, "this boy could be deported. His father has not been naturalized and the youngster is already becoming a most undesirable citizen. Let his own nation take care of him if his parents are unable to contribute to his support."

"You couldn't send the boy away from his parents," said the woman interpreter, speaking for the lad's mother.

"Oh, yes we could," said Burpee.

WANTS ANOTHER TRIAL

"Ain't the court give him another trial?" said the woman "and let him go home." He is only 10 years old. It seems to me," continued Ogden, "you can't hold him at this tender age when you can't hold him when he gets older. We don't wish to deport the lad and take him from his parents, and it is doubtful if we could, when his father has already established a residence here. But he is not yet naturalized, you say?"

"He is going to take out papers right away."

"Well when he has been naturalized we will look into the matter further," said the judge, and the case was continued until November 15.

Two boys, one 14 and the other 16 years of age, were next called before the court to answer to charges of misconduct brought by the state, who had brought suit together with the youth's sister and sister-in-law. The boys, according to their father and sister-in-law, persistently remained outside late at night, had run away from home and were otherwise incorrigible. It developed that the mother of the boys was dead and that their aunt, who was alive, but destitute. They were left to their own resources all day, eating their meals in restaurants and lacked all the essentials of a growing vigorous boy's environment.

"Why did you run away from home, Ben?" asked Judge Ogden of the older boy.

"Cause my father told me to get out." "Did you tell your boy to get out?" the judge asked of the parent.

"No, not exactly, but I did tell them that if they were not in by 11 o'clock the doors would be locked against them. They won't go to work, and I am getting tired of worrying about them."

ADVISES PATIENCE

"Well, that's one thing we must never allow ourselves to weary of, this thing of training and disciplining our boys. They are young and strong and bubbling over with surplus energy and we have to be patient with them, you know. Anyway, this young boy ought to be working. He is still under the jurisdiction of the school law. Why isn't he in school?"

It was learned that the boy was subject to epileptic fits and could not attend school for that reason.

"Do you think you give these boys a fair show?" asked the judge of the father.

"I try to, but it's a hard proposition."

The best institution for you, boy, is a mother; but we can't give her to you. She's gone. Don't you think if you went home with your father you would do better and not make him all the trouble? If I let you go home will you try to make good?"

"Yes, sir," answered the boy.

"Can't you solve this problem in some way?" the judge asked of the boy's relatives. "They have promised to do better, and they probably will, since they have been brought into court and given to understand that such actions will not be tolerated. Your father has not been naturalized and the youngster is already becoming a most undesirable citizen. Let his own nation take care of him if his parents are unable to contribute to his support."

The case was continued for a week.

CUPERTINO GETS NEXT CONVENTION

Long Chase Through Streets Results in Capture of Youthful Speeder.

King's Daughters to Hold Next Session Outside of Oakland.

Departing from its usual custom of holding its annual conventions solely in Oakland, the California branch of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons yesterday decided that the next annual conference of the order will be held at Cupertino in Santa Clara county. This will be the first time an annual convention of the California branch which have been held away from Oakland since the inception of the King's Daughters' Home here.

Natress, who states that he was told to take the machine by a chauffeur who bears his sobriquet "Dope," lives at 1226 West street. He will be charged with grand larceny, and will probably be referred to the probation officer.

Barton, who is with the Frank K. Mott company, noticed the police or the theft of his automobile at 11 o'clock last night. Patrolmen of Berkley's Oakland station immediately notified and flushed began coming into the central station of the progress of the joy ride through the city. Many people saw the five-passenger car speed by, and the police finally got close on the trail of the speeder about 3 o'clock this morning. Patrolman Staben saw the car at Twelfth, Policeman Orbell located it shortly after at Market, Sergeant Arthur Bock caught sight of the car going westward on Seventh and with his revolver and bicycle squad started in pursuit of the speeder.

A feature of the afternoon session was the memorial exercises in honor of Mrs. A. H. Hill, one of the founders and a director. They were conducted by Mrs. Anna Gilliland, who paid a fitting tribute to the deceased.

Mrs. Edwin Bothwell, of the First Baptist church, Oakland, led the afternoon devotional exercises. They were followed by a report of the committee at the Margaret Bottomes bed maintained at the King's Daughters' Home, rendered by Mrs. C. E. Bourdon and Mrs. A. J. McKee. Miss Annie Flory, of the Oakland school of education made an address on the measure providing for the establishment of a State racing commission, and cautioned the women not only to vote against the measure but to work against it.

A feature of the afternoon session was the memorial exercises in honor of Mrs. A. H. Hill, one of the founders and a director. They were conducted by Mrs. Anna Gilliland, who paid a fitting tribute to the deceased.

A number of children from the Oriental Chinese Presbyterian mission of San Francisco, in charge of Miss Minnie Chan, sang and recited verses from the scriptures, and the meeting closed with the installation of officers by the State president, Mrs. Brown, who made a fitting address.

At the session last night, Mrs. M. H. Garthwaite conducted the organ recital, which was followed by praise service and scriptural recitation, Dr. William Keeney of the Town of Alameda giving the closing benediction.

HIGH SEAS BIRTHPLACE OF LUSTY YOUNGSTER

PORLTAND, Ore., Oct. 19.—Orford Northland Conover was one day of age when the steamer Northland made fast at the One street dock yesterday, upon which he was born. With his mother he made a fast trip from the vessel to the Good Samaritan Hospital. The second engineer given him indicates that he was born on the Northland, while the first means that his birth took place off Orford reef.

Orford, George Downey, P. E. Murray and Miss Lucy Gantz were all ordered subpoenaed in Judge Shorlau's court this morning at the instance of J. Westphal, of the Whooper Whoopeo Club, a boisterous young Dutch girl, the names of the subpoenas have been kept secret by the prosecution.

It became known today that five other defendants all alleging similar offenses committed against other young women had been tried against Dade. But with the exception of Tom Christopher, a boisterous young Dutch girl, the names of the defendants have been kept secret by the prosecution.

RESORT KEEPER OF S. F. IS ON TRIAL

MAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Terence Boddy, George Downey, P. E. Murray and Miss Lucy Gantz were all ordered subpoenaed in Judge Shorlau's court this morning at the instance of J. Westphal, of the Whooper Whoopeo Club. Boddy is a well known underworld character, and all four are expected to testify as to the fact of the resort in Keon street conducted by Joseph McNeil, who is charged with keeping a disorderly house, assault and battery.

It became known today that five other defendants all alleging similar offenses committed against other young women had been tried against Dade. But with the exception of Tom Christopher, a boisterous young Dutch girl, the names of the defendants have been kept secret by the prosecution.

WRECKERS WORK ON UPSET CRAFT

Crew of Brooklyn Hope to Get Good Sum From Salvage of Guadalu.

Equipped with a full wrecking apparatus and barges, the wrecker Greenland of the Whitehead Wrecking company shifted out of the inner harbor late yesterday and this morning began operations for salvaging the capsized steam schooner Guadalu, which was brought into port yesterday by the steam schooner Brooklyn. Captain Svensen and his men of the Brooklyn believe that most of the machinery and boilers of the Guadalu remain intact. Should this prove the case the salvage money will amount to quite a large sum. The steam schooner Brooklyn arrived on this side today and discharged a lumber cargo in the inner harbor. According to Captain Svensen, the work of bringing the Guadalu into port was unusually difficult. In addition to having to cope with a heavy fog, the Brooklyn was also forced to pull the capsized vessel through a heavy running sea.

MORE LOCAL SHIPPING

According to a rumor in local shipping circles, a number of the large coast shipping concerns are making preparations for breaking the bulk of their business on this side. This rumor was strengthened to a considerable extent this morning when the big freighter Nebraska of the American Hawaiian Steamship company, which has been berthed at Long wharf to discharge the largest cargo taken by the American Hawaiian vessel this year. The big freighter is loading 3000 tons of general merchandise for the Atlantic and European seabards and will probably sail late today for the south. Not only is the American Hawaiian company said to be making preparations to handle the greater part of their freight on this side, but the Alaska Pacific Steamship company, Pacific Coast Steamship company, Robert D. Hartwood company and several other big concerns are said to be moving with fever to a location on this side. The Alaska Pacific and Pacific Coast people already are beginning to handle almost three-fourths of their freight over local wharves.

Arrangements for the padding of the coaster Hanalei of the Independent Steamship company on the ways for a general overhauling have been made. Repairs will begin in a few days. The vessel's place will be taken by the steam schooner Avalon, which has been chartered from the Hart-Wood Lumber company.

Completing her coal discharge at the Pacific Fuel company's bunkers this morning, the barkentine Lahaina, one of the few vessels on the Pacific flying the colors of the United States, was shifted from her berth at that place to the United Engineering Works. The vessel will receive a general overhauling at the United Engineering works. Elmer Ralph & Co., owners of the craft, will take her to the Columbia river to load lumber for the Alaska.

Captain A. M. Panzer, master of the steam schooner South Coast, at present at Long wharf discharging lumber, has been suspended by the port inspectors for ten days. Panzer was found guilty of negligence for the collision between the South Coast and Marshfield on August 21. J. H. Ahlin, captain of the Marshfield, was exonerated.

Two vessels of the incoming salmon fleet arrived on this side during the past week—four hours. They were the bark Alaska and the ship Tacoma. Both went into winter quarters at Alameda.

Vessels at Long wharf today included the steam schooners G. C. Lindauer, discharging lumber; Excelsior, after powder and Carlos after freight.

LIVELY BILL IS ON AT THE BROADWAY

If a bill, composed only of headliners, could be arranged, it would hardly be better than the one that is playing the last half of the week at the Broadway. There is nothing of the mediocre and nothing below the average in the entire list of acts.

It is hard to say which of the five acts is best received. La Vore presents a good comedy number. Robinson Brother and Wilson are always a big hit. Russells and Wells, "Just Two Girls," who introduce some clever numbers, are rewarded with liberal applause. Johnson and Wells are just about as near to a riot as any two could be and the Broadway patrons never seem to tire of them. The other acts on the bill help to make up one of the big shows that the management is proud of.

COAST POSTAL CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—"Metaphorical soap bubbles" was the term Governor Johnson used in a speech today at the Union stock yards to designate the tariff arguments of Governor Wilson.

"The Progressive party stands for a scientific revision of the tariff," the governor said. "If it is found that any extortions exists, our plan is to reduce the tariff downward but to do it by a scientific tariff."

"We would equalize competition between this and other countries and at the same time protect the farmer, the horticulturist and laborer."

"Governor Wilson says he has a tariff plan, but after reading all of his utterances and observing all the metaphysical soap bubbles he has blown I have been unable to determine just what tariff schedules he intends to reduce and how he intends to reduce them."

"You must make your choice this year between a man who has done things—and, of course, has made enemies—and a man who has trod so lightly that naturally he has offended on one. One is a man of action and the other a man of words."

DELEHANTIE WOULD HANG FRIDAY, 13TH

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 19.—Edward Deleantie, a murderer out on resentence, was appointed by Superior Judge Edgar T. Zook to change the date of his execution at 11 a.m. December 13, as he claimed that the weather would be more in keeping with the bad luck which had followed him through life.

The request was refused by Justice York and Deleantie will be taken back to Polson. Deleantie, who is a giant negro, stabbed and killed William Kaufman, "St. Louis Fat," a fellow convict at San Quentin prison. At the same time he also stabbed a prisoner named Peterson, who recovered.

A REFLECTION

When Fall days are growing breezy
Here is something you should know:
If your life's walk isn't easy,
Crossett Shoes will make it so.

The moon cometh to its full size on October 25th.

Do not make balloon or acrobatic ascensions this week; as a rarefied atmosphere will make breathing uncomfortable at an altitude of 3000 feet or more.

From the present outlook, several days of weather are due this week.

Style a-plenty in this Crossett. High toe. Glove top. Broad heel. This new model stands high in masculine favor.

Pretty Singer's Parent Asks
Court to Free Daughter
From Entertainer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Lea Hayes, mother of Grace Hayes, a pretty young singer employed at a cafe on the Ocean boulevard, has filed suit to annul the marriage of her daughter to Joseph C. Lind, an entertainer. Mrs. Hayes has been carefully guarding her daughter, chaperoning her constantly, but on October 1 was taken ill and the young woman went downtown alone and telephoned to Lind, crossed the bay and was married in Oakland, returning home a few hours after.

The next day she confessed the circumstances. Lind was summoned and Mrs. Hayes, in the excitement that followed, threw him out of the house.

Today, in addition to an annulment, Mrs. Hayes requested $75 alimony. Her daughter lacked nine days of being 18 years old, and consents to the suit.

WILSON DECLARES STAND ON TARIFF PROMISES USE OF DIPLOMACY

Says Democratic Party Does Not Propose Free Trade.

President Taft Speaks to the Jewish Delegation at Beverly.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 19.—The position of the Democratic party on the tariff was discussed by Governor Wilson in his speech here last night. He predicted that "the forces of reform will be dominant in both houses" in the next Congress and declared that the election of a President out of sympathy with them would generate uneasiness and discontent. He said in part:

"I advance the opinion of stating what I believe to be the well considered position of the Democratic party with regard to the tariff. "The Democratic party does not propose free trade or anything approaching free trade. It proposes merely a re-consideration of the tariff schedules such as will adjust them to the actual business conditions and interests of the country. Every solvent business man must have realized long ago that the tariff schedules were constructed in such a way that business was not done a square deal in the United States. They don't constitute a system of well considered protection. On the contrary, they embody innumerable cunningly devised and carefully concealed special favors and particular groups of capitalists and manufacturers have taken advantage of these special favors to build monopoly up in a way that is threatening and dangerous to every new and important enterprise."

THOROUGH REVISION.

"It is obvious that the country demands, and sooner or later will obtain a thoroughly considered revision of the tariff and the second practical question now is, when and how shall it be brought about? It is practically out of the question that the Republicans should control the majority of the next House of Representatives. It is evident that those who stand pat on the tariff will not control the next Senate, the forces of reform will be dominant in both houses. To be held at a standstill entirely out of sympathy with Congress will be to operate greater and greater uneasiness, greater and greater restlessness, deeper and deeper discontent."

"In spite of all the obstacles of the existing tariff system, in spite of all the embarrassment of an inelastic currency, in spite of the uncertainties of politics, the commercial and industrial interests of the country are moving forward in an irresistible stream. The argument is put forth therefore "to let well enough alone." WOULD BE IMPRESSIVE.

"The argument would be very impressive if we really thought that the present conditions are well enough but we know that they are not; that they constantly threaten the individual, the family, the manipulation of private control and even if they were well enough it is not leaving them alone to elect Mr. Taft President, to hold a restless nation at a standstill for four years and exacerbate the very forces which may now, if properly guided and wisely moderated, remove every obstacle to free enterprise and unlimited business expansion."

"There are more possibilities of peace and prosperity awaiting prosperity under the present system than there could be under any other and every dictate of prudence, every instinct of statesmanship ought to point to those early reforms which can be accomplished in good temper by common counsel and in moderate form. We cannot stand still, least of all when the opportunity of unbounded prosperity beckons us on."

"To retain our present embarrassments would be to miss our chance."

STANISLAUS PIONEER DIES.

MODESTO, Oct. 19.—W. A. Covert, one of the first settlers of this section of the state, is dead at Evans hospital in this city. He had been suffering for several months with a tumor. Covert was born in Indiana in 1837. He came to California in 1855 and located in Stanislaus county in 1862. He built the first hotel in the county at Tuolumne City. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Fannie Covert; a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Murphy of Salida, two sons, R. F. Covert of Salida and Superior Judge John G. Covert of Kings county. The death is the first that has occurred in the family for 49 years.

SAVED BY HIS WIFE.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Brattleboro, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. Flint, "a dry cough, when I was so weak my friends thought he might have only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grippe, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, etc., and tonifies hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros.

Foreign Bid Accepted in the Attempt to Lower Exorbitant Prices.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Determined to learn whether foreign manufacturers can sell the United States navy shells of equal quality for one-third less than the lowest price Americans will offer, the navy department yesterday awarded a contract to the Hadfield Steel Company of Sheffield for 500 tons of a total $500,000 worth of 12-inch armor piercers contracted for.

The department officials think that if the English product measures up to the test, the avowed intention of the government to buy abroad when necessary to meet exorbitant domestic bids, will result in a substantial lowering of American prices.

The Hadfield company was given the contract for 500 12-inch projectiles at $187 each. To the Bethlehem Steel Company went 1500 12-inch shells at $279.40 each and 600 14-inch at $300 each; to the Washington Steel Company, 1000 12-inch at $277 each and 1000 14-inch at $490 each; and to the Crucible Steel Company of America, 1000 12-inch at $274.75 each and 600 14-inch at $500 each.

The Hadfield share amounts to $22,500 out of a total of $1,915,950. This company was given none of the 14-inch projectiles, although on them it bid almost $100 less apiece than its lowest American competitor and was the only concern that offered to undertake the entire contract.

Attorney General Wickersham has prepared an opinion advising the navy department that the eight-hour law will be hard to apply in the shell companies, mostly American and foreign builders.

Contracts were let for large quantities of shells, other than the 12 and 14-inch armor piercers, on which only American companies bid.

STREET CAR ROBBERS ESCAPE INTO HILLS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—Two masked bandits boarded a Boyle Heights car near the end of the line in Belvedere, a suburb last night, held up the car crew and the passengers, and roared madly up the hillside into the depths of the darkness. Soon after the half-mile was reported to the authorities a posse of deputy sheriffs started after them.

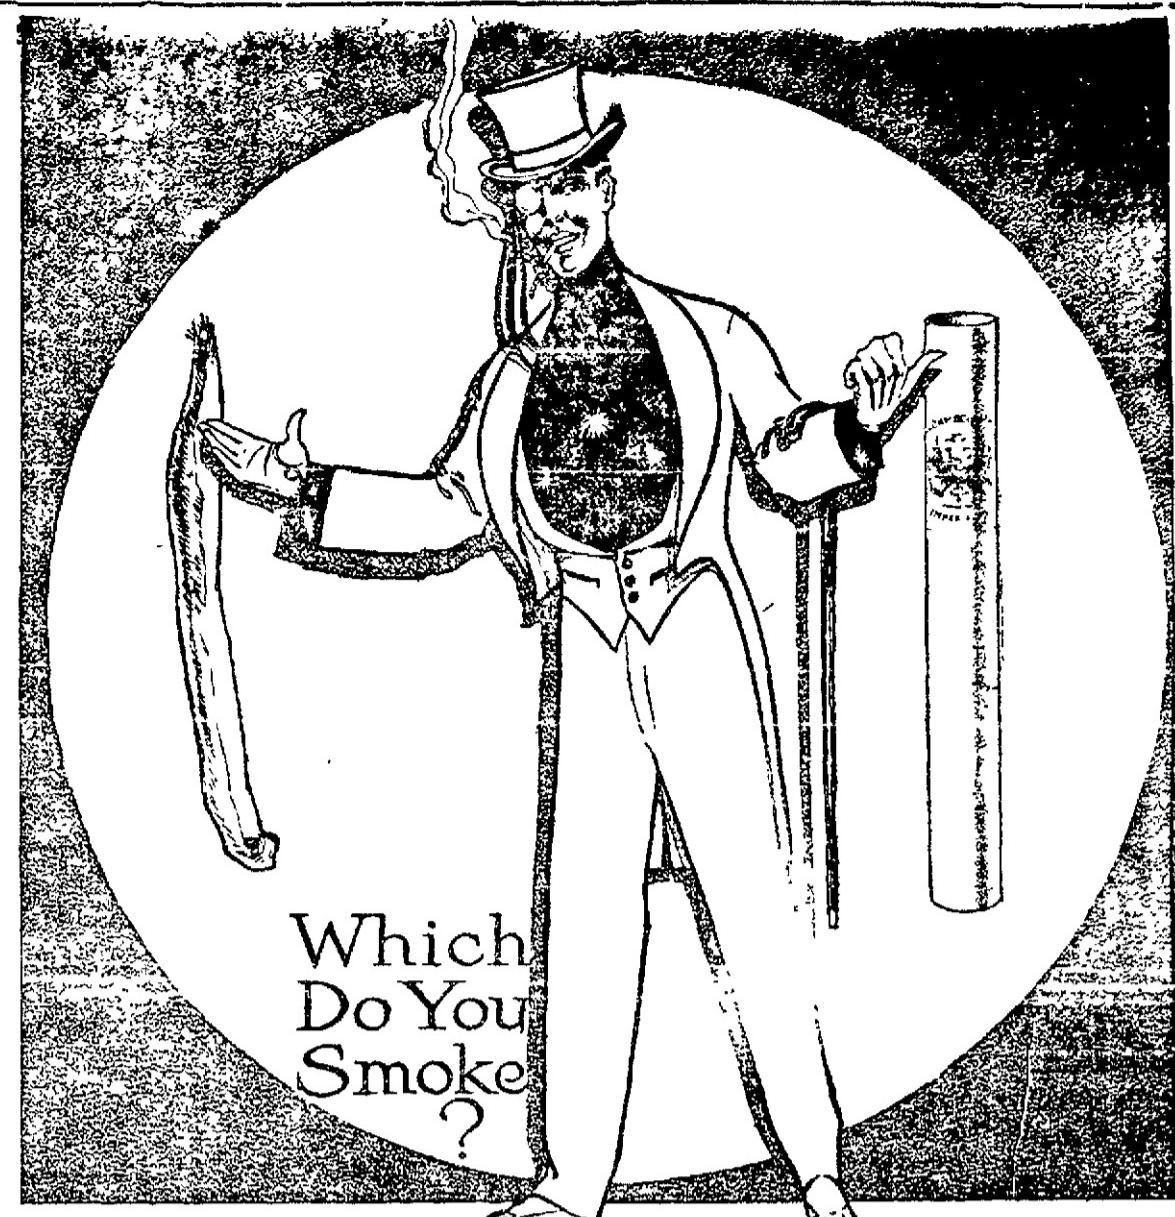

M. A. Josephs, the conductor, was robbed of $32, of which $5 was his own and both he and A. V. Brown, the motorman, were forced to give up their watches.

SENTENCE IS SPEEDY.

HAMPTON, Ind., Oct. 19.—Nine hours after the trial began and without Charles Kimmel, a 78-year-old Civil War veteran en route to the soldiers' home at Lafayette, Charles Haugh, 21 years of Walton, and Herbert Schrey of Columbus, Ind., were on their way for life and 14 years in Jeffersonville prison. Kimmel came from Indianapolis.

Have Some "Time Off"

"A man's work is from sun to sun, a woman's work is never done." An old saying that, but certainly not a truism—at least not with the woman who works intelligently and who has modern conveniences at hand.

And the modern convenience that assists as much as any other in helping the busy housewife to have some "time off" during the day is to cook with gas. Cooking with gas saves time and work. With gas in the house there's no tedious, time-consuming "getting ready" for a meal, no exasperating, troublesome cleaning-up after it. It helps shorten women's working hours by doing all that's demanded in the shortest possible time.

Cooking with gas is quick, clean, satisfactory. And thrifty women are unanimous in declaring it to be economical.

Why not have "Pacific Service" in your home. Don't consider its cost—that will take care of itself to your satisfaction. Consider the comfort derived from its use—it's great convenience. A phone call or postal will bring a representative to you with full information.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE EDITORIAL PAGE

M. C. CHAPMAN
President

Elliott Decides to Abate Himself.

Albert H. Elliott says he will make no more speeches in favor of annexation. "I am sick and tired of the whole business," he said at Berkeley Thursday night. We assure him that the people are sick and tired of him and his absurd speeches.

As a decoy duck he has proved a failure. Elliott complains that his motives have been impugned. He is very free in impugning the motives of others, but feels that he should be immune from unfavorable conclusions predicated on a course of conduct which can only be rationally explained by impeaching his good faith. Candor is the parent of sincerity, and in this quality Elliott has been woefully lacking. He has tried to deceive and mislead instead of endeavoring to instruct and guide by the light of the truth. He has striven to persuade the people of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda to do themselves an irretrievable injury by the puffedogging arts of a political attorney. He has continuously misrepresented the purpose and effect of the annexation amendment, and has twisted and distorted his facts in pointing to Greater New York as an example for Oakland to follow.

Consolidation made Tammany master of the State of New York; it raised the rate of taxation instead of lowering it, and divested the annexed boroughs of all but a shadow of autonomy. Local improvements in the outside boroughs have had to wait upon the pleasure of the politicians of Manhattan. The outside communities have been sucked dry that the old city of New York might be aggrandized.

Fabulous sums raised by taxing all the property within the limits of the consolidated city have been spent for the sole purpose of making Manhattan the center of all commercial, political and financial activity. The charter of the consolidated city is a clumsy device that works wholly to the advantage of Manhattan borough.

It has been demonstrated that the borough system is inefficient and expensive, and that it sacrifices the interests of the smaller communities to the selfishness of the larger one.

All these things Elliott must know if he has given the subject any study at all. Either he has spoken without knowledge or wisdom, or he has deliberately falsified the facts. He has appeared as a special pleader opposed to the interests of his fellow townsmen whom he has labored to deliver into political bondage to a greedy and jealous neighbor hostile to the growth and development of their city.

We hope he is sick and tired of the whole business. We know he is sore, and because he is sore we know that our efforts have not been entirely in vain. It is proper that he should feel the prick of shame, the sting of popular contempt. He has played a part that has been the scorn of mankind since Judas betrayed the Master, and long before.

The people of Oakland are not only sick and tired of him, but they are disgusted with him, his shallow egotism, impudent pretensions and censorious hypocrisy. He will do well to go away back and sit down—and keep quiet, moreover. Elliott has poured himself out on this community till it has no further use for him. It has had a surfeit already. It is a relief that he has decided to abate himself.

Controller Nye says the recall of judicial decisions by popular vote is "anarchistic." So it is; and the more anarchistic when limited, as it is by Colonel Roosevelt, to constitutional questions. It would operate to destroy the constitution by piecemeal and indirection. Every constitutional guaranty to life, liberty, property and personal freedom could be broken down in a spasm of popular rage. The rights of the States and all the powers of local government could be overridden by an excited populace acting under blind resentment. In the last analysis, the recall of judicial decisions, if adopted, will put an end to constitutional government and the whole system of jurisprudence and political order based upon the Federal and State Constitutions.

Look Out for Roorbacks.

The "roorback" stage of the campaign, which San Francisco has forced through its initiative amendment to Section 7 of Article XI of the State Constitution, is close at hand. The promoters of that infamously selfish measure are getting ready for it, as is evident from the following paragraph contained in a circular sent out this week by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to the business men and property-owners in that city for an immediate subscription of $50,000 to the campaign fund:

"Such misleading statements regarding this amendment are being spread broadcast throughout the State by some of its opponents that it is imperative that vigorous and energetic steps be immediately taken to get before the voters of the State the true facts about the amendment, or the voters will be deceived and the amendment may fail to carry, which would work a most serious injury to the development of the entire bay district."

This slanderous assertion is being made and circulated less than three weeks before the day of the election when the fate of the initiative constitutional amendment prepared by San Francisco to make easy the gobbling up of the populous and prosperous cities on the east bay shore will be determined at the ballot box. Its utterance has been plainly delayed so that any "roorback" spread broadcast over the State with the aid of the money solicited cannot be followed and refuted in time to neutralize their effect. The "roorback" is a political lie which travels faster than any refutation sent out to overtake. The fellows who are managing the Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association are experts in the preparation of "roorbacks," and totally unscrupulous as to the manner in which they are used.

Intelligent and fair-minded voters throughout the State have doubtless taken due notice of the fact that the statements which have been issued to show the true character of San Francisco's initiative amendment to Section 7 of Article XI and which are now called "misleading" have been publicly displayed before them for many weeks. Indeed, if there were anything misleading in them, they could have been disputed effectively two or three months ago. As a matter of fact, however, not a single statement affecting the character of the initiative amendment, during the whole of the period it has been under discussion has been questioned, for the simple reason that every statement made is unassailable.

This is the time, however, to put the people on guard against "roorbacks" which the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is preparing to flood the State to influence unthinking voters to support its obnoxious measure which is inimical in every feature to the best interests of the State, commercially and politically.

THE GRIM REAPER IS HAPPY

Softsoaping the People.

The annexation speliers are whispering it around in this section of the State that the cities and towns contiguous must submit to annexation to prevent Los Angeles from outgrowing San Francisco. This is an argument they do not employ in the southern part of the State. They do not tell the Angelinos that the object of the amendment is to make Los Angeles look like thirty cents. But it is not the business of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda to prevent Los Angeles from outgrowing San Francisco. That is San Francisco's business; and it is the business of Los Angeles to grow as fast as she can. The bigger she grows the better it will be for all California, provided the growth is natural and not forced by absorbing adjacent communities against their will. Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond want to be let alone and allowed to work out their own destiny. They are all building up on their merits. This is precisely what incenses San Francisco. It is the growth on this side of the bay, not the growth of Los Angeles that has prompted the annexation movement. Our neighbors in San Francisco want to stop this growth and force it back to the peninsula. They desire to make the cities of the eastern shore so many sleeping porches for San Francisco. They are enemies to our development who are trying to deceive us with delusive hopes and false promises, as they are trying to deceive the people of the interior as to the tenor and purpose of the annexation amendment. They tell a different story in every section of the State—trying to slip one over on everybody else by guileful misrepresentations.

Isn't it about time to call another peace congress? Grim-visaged war is rearing his horrid front in many places—in Mexico, Central America, North Africa and the Balkan peninsula, while the war dogs of Germany and England are growling at each other. Even the Orangemen of Ulster are threatening to go to war with the British government. The dove of peace is hard put to find a place of rest.

More fat in the fire. Greece has declared war against Turkey.

Jack Johnson's Last Escapade.

Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, seems to have recovered very quickly from the grief occasioned by the death of his white wife. When she committed suicide he professed the profoundest woe and announced that he would never enter a prize ring again. Within the last few days it has been announced that he had signed articles to fight Sam Langford for a purse of $50,000, and he has been arrested for abducting a white girl formerly employed by him as a stenographer. It is reported that he had permitted his affections to stray in the direction of this girl before his wife took her own life. Johnson bluntly says he is pursued by white women, and declares that the girl he is accused of abducting followed him of her own accord. He is certainly neither a modest nor a chivalrous lover. In any event, the wretched girl who has become infatuated with the negro bruiser has made a mess of her life. Whether or not Johnson marries her, she has achieved a notoriety that will cling to her all her born days. She refused to be warned by the fate of the other white woman who cut herself off from companionship with members of her own race by linking herself with a man whose color and occupation locked on her the doors of the society of her own people. Jack Johnson can only drag her down. Physically he is a superb animal, but in all other respects he is a sorry specimen of humanity. He is low in the moral and social scale—just an animal, big, powerful and agile, but nothing more. He may attract the fancy of morbid, degenerate women, but that is no excuse for his conduct or the kind of boasting he indulges in. The lionizing of a man of Johnson's type and calling it a grave reproach to modern civilization. This lionizing is largely responsible for the conquests he makes of weak, silly, frail women with little brain and low self-respect.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

67 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

QUINCY FIRE FIGHTERS FLIRT WITH DISASTER

OROVILLE, Oct. 19.—Not realizing that there was a wagon loaded to its fullest capacity with 2500 pounds of explosives in the blazing Plumas livery stable at Quincy, hundreds of the residents and firefighters of that town unknowingly flirted with death in the fire there. Fate played the principal part in preventing the terrible explosion that might have resulted in a great loss of life and property. It happened that the wagon left in the stable was loaded with the powder. Another wagon loaded with the powder and caps was pulled to safety in the nick of time. It was not known at the time that the other wagon load of powder was in the blazing building. It was in violation of the law that the powder was kept in the town over night and Quincy will in the future enforce the law to the limit, there being much powder hauled into and through the town to the mines.

HAYWARD ADOPTS FIREHOUSE PLANS

The New Brick and Concrete Structure to Cost Sum of $10,000.

HAYWARD, Oct. 19.—Plans and specifications for a new fire house have been adopted by the board of town trustees. The building will be a two-story affair, built of brick and concrete. It will cost $10,000. The plans were drawn up by John Harr, a local architect.

A bond election to cover the expense is to be called within the next few weeks. The sum named will be $15,000. Four thousand dollars will be spent on a modern fire alarm system. One thousand will be expended on securing additional land for the new fire house.

TO BEGIN WORK ON WIDENING STREETS

RICHMOND, Oct. 19.—The work of tearing down the fences on Twenty-third street and widening that thoroughfare 20 feet on the east side by taking a strip that width from the Nicholl holdings between Macdonald and Pullman avenues will be commenced Monday. An assessment of $10,000 is to be taken of the tract to be cleared by Street Superintendent Farley and the payment of damages fixed by the commissioners. This street is the main artery for travel leading into the city from Oakland, and as soon as the widening is completed the street railway company will also complete its double tracking into the city, which was stopped in the Pullman district subject to this widening process.

The work is to be done by the city, which is to widen it to 40 feet from the curb to San Pablo, nearly 1200 feet, paved and improved into a modern boulevard, which is next to Cuttings boulevard, the largest street improvement undertaken by the city since the paving of Macdonald avenue.

COLLIER NERO TO COME SOUTH IN NOVEMBER

VALLEJO, Oct. 19.—Word was received at Mare Island many yard to day that the naval auxiliary collier Nero, which took an expedition to Alaska in May to install and repair radio stations, would return here November 26. The vessel is now at Cordova, where repairs are being made, and is under orders to proceed to Sicks for a short stay before returning to Mare Island.

Lieutenant Commander Lloyd S. Shapley, engineer officer of the cruiser Maryland, has been ordered to Mare Island for duty. He is expected to report here within a few days, upon the arrival of the Maryland. It is thought that the Maryland may remain here for extensive repairs if conditions at Nicaragua continue quiet. A request for 40 days' repair work on the vessel was made two months ago.

PIEDMONT NOTES

HAYWARD, Oct. 19.—A new method, known as the "budget system," has been inaugurated in the financial department of the city government. Receipts and expenditures will be kept in such a systematic fashion that at any moment it will be possible to tell just where the city's money has been spent or credited. The revenues will be segregated as follows:

(1) Taxes (a) general; (b) Library;

(c) Bond; (d) Operative.

2. Licenses: (a) Licenses; (b) All other taxes.

3. Fines.

4. Franchises.

5. Miscellaneous.

The expenditures will be classified thus:

1. Health and conservation: a—health department; b—street cleaning; c—sewer repair, etc.

2. Charities and corrections: a—jail;

b—Recreation: a—parks and playgrounds; b—celebrations.

3. Streets and highways: a—maintenance and repair; b—lighting.

4. Public works: a—streets.

The system is being perfected by G. A. Dolce, municipal account expert for San Francisco. The change from the old method of keeping the city's accounts has been gradually made, and the matter being kept quiet by the board of trustees until all was in readiness to make the announcement public.

STEVE BOOSTERS MEET AND PLAN CAMPAIGN

STEVE, Oct. 19.—A meeting of the annexed Citizens' Progressive club of the annexed districts was held in the club at this place last evening, at which several important matters were taken up and discussed by the members present. A good attendance was on hand and much interest was manifested in the discussion of the tunnel and harbor bond election to be held next month, and it was voted by the club that the boosters of the Steel and Pullman districts get behind the project and help the Richmond citizens' committee and the Industrial Commission in their campaign of education. It is figured that the building of the inner harbor will be of inestimable benefit to Steve, located as it is on its very shores.

NEPHEW OF FORMER PRESIDENT IS SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—A. Irving Harrison of Keweenaw City, nephew of the late former President Benjamin Harrison and at one time a captain in the United States army, committed suicide here last night by shooting himself in the breast. His act was said to have been induced by despondency over the loss of money in a Texas land venture.

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, Oct. 19.—An interesting session of the Brotherhood of St. Paul was held last evening in the parlors of Western Methodist church, at which Rev. Dr. Horn, pastor of the First Baptist church, told the members of personal experiences and observations relative to the struggles of men onward in the world.

An Owenite, who would not be told his name, friends of Mayor J. C. Owens will assemble.

A call for bids for the foundation work on the new city library building at Tenth and Macdonald avenues was issued this morning by the Elks' building committee, the excavation being completed.

The women's branch of the Druids entertained 26 visiting members of the organization from other cities yesterday, the day last evening at an initiation and breakfast. Grand Arch Druidess Mrs. Cherry Fisher, of Oakland, was among the speakers.

The annual entertainment and dance of the Catholic churches of Richmond takes place this evening in Maple Hall and the heavy advance sale of tickets assures a very large attendance. The event will be one of much interest and amusement.

Nine candidates were received into Olive Homestead of the Teomes last evening, at which the degree and drill team displayed fine work.

The school year began last evening in commemoration of their affiliation with the national brotherhood of their order. Initiation and banquet were part of the program.

Mr. W. Topping was host to a large party of friends last evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Fahey, of Chicago.

The price placed by Burg Brothers on the site of the addition they recently purchased from the city of Richmond for the school board selected for the building of another large school building is $25,000 but the deal has not as yet been closed.

A fire alarm brought out the department, according to the home of Mrs. Mary Farley, to a small blaze caused by the explosion of a gas pipe.

Another Mysterious Fire In Pleasonton Stirs Authorities to Action.

PLEASONTON, Oct. 19.—Another of a series of mysterious fires occurred here early yesterday and destroyed a large barn stored with baled hay. The structure, situated in Main street near the town limits, was ablaze before the fire was noticed by Nightwatchman Granzio. The firemen concentrated their efforts to saving surrounding buildings. The loss is estimated at about $2000.

The authorities are inclined to believe that the fire was set intentionally.

A nickel dance is one of the features for tonight and this afternoon the baby contest and baking contest were held.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Subtle Feminine Flattery

It has been often said that women will never succeed in politics because they have no diplomacy. But it seems that the very tricks of flattery that men have been working on them for so long they are now trying on each other. Mrs. Charles Bentley who besides being a society woman and a golf champion is an ardent suffragette, started out the other day to interest the shop girls of the city in the coming election and to urge them to be present at a series of luncheons that the women of the Civic League had arranged for every day of this week at different hours in order to accommodate the girls who lunched from 1 until 2. She passed up and down the aisles in one of the big stores explaining that luncheon would be furnished free, also that a tempestuous talk would be given on politics, and urging the girls to accept one of the tickets of admission that she was distributing. They were not very enthusiastic and made the usual feminine excuses for their inability to be present. It was evident that Mrs. Bentley was disengaged in spite of her smiling face and stereotyped question, "Have you registered?" which opened her conversation with each group, began to be half-hearted. Approaching one of the department counters she glanced over the long line of women and put the question, "Have you registered?" and then added regretfully, "No, I expect not. You are all too YOUNG to vote." Every girl at the counter rose to the delicate insulation, and so successful was the ruse that Mrs. Bentley was tempted to try it on several other groups with equally good results.—Town Talk.

Babcock-Lawson Nuptials

St. John's Episcopal Church, in Ross Valley, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday, when John Lawson claimed for his bride beautiful Mrs. Gertrude Eels Babcock. The wedding was extremely small, and included only the relatives of the bride and a few of her most intimate friends. A small reception at the home of the Charles Parmeele Eels on Shady Lane followed the ceremony, and the honeymoon will be spent in London, where Mr. Lawson has taken a house for the polo tournament. The guests included Mrs. James Corrin, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Green, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Grimwood, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Allen, Mr. Jonathan Kittle, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Eels, Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins.

Mr. Lawson is many years the senior of his beautiful bride, and has known her ever since she was a little girl, and while the news of her engagement came as a great surprise to society in general, her intimate friends rather predicted it. Mr. Babcock's marriage to John Lawson rather breaks up the close alliance the Eels family have been in with two other families. It was quite a coincidence that both Marion and Gertrude Eels should have two Babcocks, while their brother, Seward Eels, married Marion Coffin, the oldest daughter of Mrs. James Coffin, and the youngest Eels girl, Dorothy, married Marion Coffin's cousin, the Rev. James Silton Coffin.—The Wasp.

Henry J. Crocker

It was fitting that at the funeral service for the late Henry J. Crocker no word of eulogy was spoken. None was needed. He was so much a contemporary steeped in the life of his city and State, and touched its activities in so many directions, any formal enumeration of his sterling qualities would have been superfluous. Capitalist, holder of important public offices, banker, and one whose general commercial interests were infinitely varied, he was at the same time a social personality, and active member of many fraternal organizations.

We leave a widow, Mrs. Mary Ives Crocker, who was one of the heirs of the Charles McLaughlin estate; two sons, Harry, a student at Yale, and Clark, who is at Taft's School in Connecticut; three daughters, Mary Julia, Kate and Marian; three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Van Fleet, Mrs. Fanny McCrea, and Mrs. Fred Green, and a brother-in-law, Samuel G. Buckbee.

A man who never forgave a friend nor forgot a favor, however slight, will be mourned not only by those who enjoyed the inestimable privilege of an intimate and personal association, but by many thousands who came in contact with him in his multitudinous public, commercial and fraternal activities.—The Wasp.

Mansion Not Lent Yet

The Mintner mansion on Pacific avenue, for which a prominent Jewish merchant offered $860 a month, has not yet been rented. It was provided in the lease that Christians only were eligible to rent the mansion, and they appeared to be scarce, for nobody with a certificate of church membership has stepped up to take the place of the prominent merchant who was willing to pay the $460 a month, but could not make the requisite religious showing. The will contest which threatens to tie up the Mintner estate in prolonged litigation still impedes for the time being the distribution of the late Mrs. Mintner's estate. It is determined to get what she considered her full share of the estate—if not one-half, at least some fraction very close to that.—The Wasp.

"The Danger"

Those who have read the book will appreciate the following. It was a rather large social gathering which took the form of a costume, and one of our well known young clowns, recently returned from a tour of the world, regarded the costumed guests rather curiously. "How I shall know," he told a friend, "and see every outward evidence of trepidation." "Why not?" demanded the friend. "Because," answered our young clown, "there are so many women here who are the dangerous sort."—Town Talk.

An Ambitious Young Business Man

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kerner (Miss Alberta Sunker), whose wedding took place last week, are a very popular young couple who believe in an early start in life. Mr. Kerner is the son of that popular real estate broker, Louis Kerner of the well-known firm of Kerner & Elbert. Young Mr. Kerner inherits his father's ability, and has already established himself in the real estate business, and has built for his bride a handsome home in the Rockridge-Terrell district of Oakland. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hunter, an elaborate reception following the ceremony, at which Rev. Father Collins officiated.—The Wasp.

Prefers London to San Francisco

Mrs. Ethel Moreland isn't coming here this winter. Too bad! We've all been waiting eagerly, ever since she announced that she would favor us again, for a sight of those wondrous gowns which cost oodles of money but which she never thinks of wearing more than once. We were all interested in Miss Moreland's career at Newport this summer because we had the opportunity to see her last winter when she came here as the guest of Mrs. George Murry. Her beauty took more than passing notice, but we didn't realize what a personage she was until she descended on Newport and shined glory on her native city of Pittsburgh by getting herself acclaimed the most beautiful girl of the season. Then came the story about the gowns which, of course, made Miss Moreland a national figure. So, when it was announced that she was coming here for another winter, we couldn't have been more stirred up if "Tommy" Sears herself were coming. But alas! She isn't coming. Goh! to London instead. No matter how apocryphal some of the Newport stories about her may have been, she has arrived at last. The perennial Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish has taken her up. That gives her the cachet. So she's to have a season in Lunnon, which means a great deal more to her than a season in San Francisco. She may be presented at court in a superlatively wonderful gown.—Town Talk.

Dr. Bryant's Mistake

Dr. Edgar H. Bryant, the well known member of the Bohemian Club, created a brief sensation in the St. Francis Hotel at midnight last Wednesday. Among those who were lingering over their supper or chatting in the lobby and the blue room were several friends of the genial doctor. Imagine their surprise when Dr. Bryant entered the hotel, not clad in conventional afternoon or evening clothes but looking like a picture cut out of a comic supplement. He wore an absurd black hat with broad brapping brim, a crimson scarf flanking against a background of lurid shirt, and his short overcoat exposed the legs of a pair of trousers with the largest and loudest checks ever seen outside of negro minstrelsy. In addition, he carried a small satchel. Everybody who saw this apparition wondered what had suddenly gone wrong with Dr. Bryant. Friends and strangers gathered in knots to observe him while he stopped at the desk to speak to the night clerk. The night clerk, suppressing a laugh with difficulty, shook his head negatively, and Doctor Bryant with a woe-be-gone expression that accentuated the weirdness of his makeup turned and walked toward the club room. There Harry Coniff of the Olympic Club accosted him, with considerable misgiving, and asked him to explain his clothes. The explanation was very simple. Dr. Bryant had been asked to the masquerade given by Mr. and Mrs. Mooser in honor of Clarence Kolb and Max Dill. But he had come just one week ahead of time. The doctor took a "link or two to sustain his courage and then went his homeward way, a very unhappy messenger.—Town Talk.

A Mizner Marries

Mr. Henry Mizner of the Mizner family was married this week in St. Louis, choosing for his bride Miss Eleanor Postlethwaite. Dr. Mizner is not like his brother, Dr. William Mizner, a physician but a clergyman. He ministers to an Episcopalian congregation in St. Louis. Congratulations are being showered upon him and his bride. Which serves to remind me that the Mizner boys cannot be called a marrying crowd, at least not to any great extent. Addison is a bachelor in New York, and I've not heard that he thinks of giving up his single blessedness.

Edgar is a bachelor in San Francisco, with more or less set ideas about remaining so. The same holds true of Lansing, who would hate to give up the Pacific Union Club for a domestic establishment. Wilson is an exception of course. He married, but not with conspicuous success. His union with Mrs. Verdes did not last long, and today he's more interested in footlights than in heartthroats.

On the other hand, Minnie Mizner, the sister of the Mizner boys, is happy as Mrs. Howard Blanchard Chase.—Town Talk.

Mrs. Darling's Hallowe'en Party

Miss Elizabeth Brice is to be the guest of honor at a Hallowe'en party given by Mr. John A. Farina at her house on Clay street. This will be the first formal appearance of Miss Brice, who will be one of the season's debutantes. She is the daughter of the late Captain Brice of the navy, whose death last winter prevented Miss Elizabeth's formal debut. She is a studious girl, and has spent much of her time studying music and languages in Germany. Her mother was Elizabeth Tallant, sister of the late John and Fred Tallant, and before her marriage to the naval officer was a great belle at the old Tallant home on Bush and Jones streets before the fire.—The Wasp.

Affection Wasted on Dogs

The amount of maternal affection that is being dissipated in San Francisco, the existence of which was betrayed at the Toy Dog Show given at the St. Francis, should certainly be conserved by some of the modern methods known only to club women. The "mothering" that was lavished upon these tiny dogs was a revelation to the onlookers who had old-fashioned notions that such sentimental affection should be reserved for the infants of the race. The "Prince of Pilsen," catalogued as the smallest black and tan in America, was the idol of his mistress, Mrs. J. T. Halling, who confided to her intimates the circumstances under which he had come into her possession. She couldn't vouch for his pedigree, because her agent, while negotiating for his purchase in Toronto, discovered that the only reason he was being offered for sale was that the gentleman who offered him had quarreled with his wife and was selling her pet toy dog for spite. (The lady had no baby to kidnap and whisk away in the obsolete fashion of breaking the heart of a mother.) Mrs. Halling's agent consequently closed the deal as expeditiously as possible, and departed from Toronto in the dead of night, required by the purchasers of expensive dogs. But the Prince of Pilsen looked aristocratic and took a prize.—Town Talk.

A Pet With a History

Mrs. Mersero confessed to having had in her possession a Chinese sacred sleeve dog, strangely obtained, but still very much loved. He was stolen from the Palace in Pekin, smuggled out of the country and into California—after the manner of much of the "loot" that came to this city at the time of the Boxer war in China. He lost his life during the excitement of the fire of 1906 and was hurriedly buried in the garden of the Merrero home in Jones street. Afterwards he was disinterred and his remains now rest in a cedar box under a willow tree at Burlingame. Mrs. Charles Sutro's "Annabel" is a pampered pet, and Lydia Hopkins and Margaret Barron even expend as much time on babies as on their dogs, they will easily take prizes as model mothers. There was the usual growling and grumbling over the distribution of prizes and one exhibitor exclaimed with tears in her eyes as she held her defeated pet close in her arms: "It's bad enough to think Toto didn't get a prize, but to have him beaten by a mutt is too much!"—Town Talk.

Painful Poker

Captain John J. Shea, the genial pilot has developed a grudge against poker. Not because he has lost, for the captain is a good player and takes his infrequent setbacks like a true sportsman, but because he met with a rather serious accident while playing. The captain was sitting in a game at the Transportation Club the other day and was doing very nicely. In the midst of the play a friend whom he hadn't seen for some time approached the table. The captain rose hastily to shake hands, but stumbled over a cuspidor and was picked up with a broken rib. The captain says he won't play another game for some time.—Town Talk.

A Surprise Wedding

Miss Laura Fornsworth surprised her friends the other day by quietly becoming the bride of J. P. Rounseal at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Farnsworth, on Washington street. None of her most intimate friends knew that she even contemplated matrimony until they were asked to be at her home at a certain hour on Saturday, and upon arriving there found the Rev. William Guthrie prepared to read the wedding ceremony. Miss Farnsworth has been a very popular girl at dances for several reasons, and has a host of friends, who were much interested in the news. Mr. Rounseal is an expert designer for a jewelry firm here, where the bride and groom will make their future home. He has been married before.

Mr. and Mrs. Rounseal have gone south for their honeymoon, and wedding announcements which reached their friends this week state that they will be home after November 18th at their house on Sacramento street that Mr. Rounseal will be in charge.—News Letter.

Mrs. Graham's Clothes

Miss William Miller Graham is going to take our breath away by the grandeur of her clothes this winter. Mrs. Graham was abroad for two months, dividing her time between Paris and Venice for the most part. In Paris she shopped in the luxurious fashion possible to a woman with a surpassing man like "Bill" Graham for a husband. We shall see the result this winter whenever Mrs. Graham favors us with her presence which, I am afraid, will not be very often. Mrs. Graham likes Santa Barbara but has never been overwhelmed by the grandeur of San Francisco or peninsula society. Still she will be with us from time to time, especially for musical affairs of the first order; and then we shall peep at her gowns. I emphasize this because they are gowns worth waiting for. A writer who saw her in a Paris atelier just before she crossed the ocean to New York on her way to California described how she was dressed: "She wore a gown made of the most supple gray moire, folded over on the left side with a sufficient movement to have a peep at one foot, and where the other folds were revealed a pleasing showed itself in fine buttons. Of course there was the inevitable fur collar of Pekin, a new fur. Her hat was exceedingly large, of black plush, and the plumes were set in the erratic fashion called the aeroplane, sweeping across the front of the brim and drooping, or rather curving to the shoulder."—Town Talk.

Those who have read the book will appreciate the following. It was a rather large social gathering which took the form of a costume, and one of our well known young clowns, recently returned from a tour of the world, regarded the costumed guests rather curiously. "How I shall know," he told a friend, "and see every outward evidence of trepidation." "Why not?" demanded the friend. "Because," answered our young clown, "there are so many women here who are the dangerous sort."—Town Talk.

The Next Divorce

Society, or at least that portion of it not already in the secret, is soon to be startled by news of the divorce suit of another well-known couple who make their home, or homes, down the peninsula. The spirit of harmony packed its suitcase and deserted some time ago and shortly afterward the couple took separate quarters. For a time it seemed as if such separation would have been ample, but now we hear that they are to air their grievances in the courts. The wife is a sister of a well-known city matron and the man in America was the idol of his mistress, Mrs. J. T. Halling, who confided to her intimates the circumstances under which he had come into her possession. She couldn't vouch for his pedigree, because her agent, while negotiating for his purchase in Toronto, discovered that the only reason he was being offered for sale was that the gentleman who offered him had quarreled with his wife and was selling her pet toy dog for spite. (The lady had no baby to kidnap and whisk away in the obsolete fashion of breaking the heart of a mother.) Mrs. Halling's agent consequently closed the deal as expeditiously as possible, and departed from Toronto in the dead of night, required by the purchasers of expensive dogs. But the Prince of Pilsen looked aristocratic and took a prize.—Town Talk.

Princess Lazarovich

The trouble in the Balkans—there is always trouble in the Balkans—has brought into prominence the brilliant and politically powerful Princess Lazarovich-Hrebeljanovich, who has taken quite a prominent part in the parlor political intrigues affecting her husband's country. The Princess is a native daughter of the Golden West, and in her youth was known as dainty little Eleanor Calhoun of San Jose. In addition to her literary labors as collaborator with the Prince in a two-volume history of the Servian people, which was published early last year, she has entered into a contract with a New York and London publishing house to write a volume of memoirs.

If these memoirs are completely biographical they should be of especial interest to California readers, for the writer has played a considerable part in the history of Western society and has made a careful study of all the principal missions of the State. When John McGroarty staged his famous "Mission Play" at the old San Gabriel Mission, it was the then Eleanor Calhoun who took the leading role. And thereby hangs a tale. In those days Miss Calhoun was an amateur actress whose charm overcame the footlights with such magnetic force there was more than one youth of the period whose heart was captive to her soulfulness. To what extent these passions gave the pretty young actress a second thought can only be guessed at except in the case of one young sophomore who is now a publishing prince and a power in the land. The pair would have married but for the intervention of parental influence—at least so runs the story. However, it is pleasing to note that association with European nobility has in no way diminished Princess Lazarovich's love for her native State, of which she says: "God called forth our beloved land from his depth—letting down between the mountain and the sea a purifier of his paradise where he can still walk with his children at sunrise and in the performed evening."

It is understood that the Prince is considerably angered by the tone of certain San Francisco papers which question the value of his titles. He denies that he ever made the claim to be a prince of the reigning house, and admits that his is only a courtesy title. As a diplomat he is said to have made a marked success, and though there was nothing strikingly brilliant in his history of the Servian people, considerable interest attaches to his forthcoming volume on the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico, which will discuss a number of Oriental problems.—The Wasp.

It is understood that the Prince is considerably angered by the tone of certain San Francisco papers which question the value of his titles.

He and mother had entered into a conspiracy and decided to shame the little wife into learning to sew, but at sight of her husband in the role of a seamstress, she went into gates of laughter, and vowed all his friends should know how clever and versatile he really is.

He argued against this, and the indications are that sewing will be a forbidden subject in that home from now on.—News Letter.

Vicerine of India Soon

A San Francisco girl is to be Vicerine of India.

Louise Bonynge, stepdaughter of Charles B. Bonynge, of San Francisco, now the wife of Sir John Grenfell Maxwell, will be the mistress of the residence of the Commander-in-Chief of his Majesty's forces in India.

Another American girl has already filled the position, which is second only to Royalty, the late Lady Curzon of Kedleston, who we are all proud to refer to as Mary Victoria, Letter of Chicago, daughter of Levi Z. Letter, the merchant prince of that city.

Maxwell has a brilliant record of service in Egypt, and was military governor of Pretoria after the war in South Africa. Mrs. Bonynge has also another daughter in the English peerage, the Viscountess Deerhurst, an intimate friend of Princess Christian. With General Maxwell commanding the forces in India, California women will shine in society in Calcutta and Simla, the summer capital.—News Letter.

The New Order of Things

Socially a new order of things has been inaugurated with the Halloran's recital that Clara Alexander will give at the St. Francis in conjunction with a number of society girls and men. That recital is causing a small-sized tempest as to who's who. Miss Alexander is classed as a "professional," having been associated with Forbes-Robertson, Coquelin and others of equal note in the theatrical world beside having the endorsement of a number of the English nobility. Heretofores it has been the custom for society to give a benefit and invite professional talent to help out but on this occasion Miss Alexander is giving the "show" on her own account and she will be assisted by society. Already there has been some contention as to who should be exploited in large type in the complimentary newspaper notices. Enid Gregg, Mrs. George Armsby, Ernestine McNear—our society amateurs—and Felton Elkins, our local play amateur are supporting the professionals.

By the way, I noticed Felton Elkins and beautiful Miss Enid Gregg at luncheon together in the St. Francis the other noon. As Miss Gregg is to play the principal role in the younger's play, it is quite natural that playright and leading lady should be much together. They were deep in conversation, and a professional-looking manuscript was more than once consulted by the blonde young "Clyde Rich." The play is to be on the order of G. B. S.'s "Pannier's First Play." I am told. For that reason I have heard it referred to as "Felton's First Play." The title gave one ill-natured society chap the chance for a gibe. "Why advertise the fact that it's his first play?" he demanded. "We'll discover that soon enough when it's produced." But as a matter of fact it isn't his first. Felton has tried before. Let us hope for his sake that the new venture will be very like G. B. S. in wit. And still, why insist on dragging in Shaw? Still Felton is very young, only about twenty-two, and the wonderful genius his admirers credit him with may develop one of these days. Let us remember that most men don't reach the full maturity of their powers till they are forty.—Town Talk.

It is natural that purists should protest against the patronage accorded ragtime dancing by certain society dames, but, after all, the departure from the conventions has its excuses. It is a question of choosing between a little latitude with the certainty of a large attendance of men

Thirty-Ninth Annual Convention Meets With 500 Accredited Delegates.

PORLTAND, Oct. 19.—The thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union was called to order in the First Methodist church here today by the president, Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens, with approximately 500 accredited delegates present. The business of the morning was largely routine.

After the appointment of convention committees Mrs. Stevens delivered her annual address, the most important feature of the morning session.

The credentials committee delivered its preliminary report during the day. Mrs. Frances P. Parks followed with her report on national corresponding secretaries which showed that during the year 11,000 members of the organization, including 1,000 in Japan, were added to the total membership of the national union to the 300,000 mark. The report of Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchinson, national treasurer, showed the finances of the organization in a highly prosperous condition.

A striking feature of the afternoon session was the children's demonstration, conducted in by 200 little ones costumed to represent the people of many lands.

Tonight a general welcoming session was scheduled to take place with an address of welcome by Governor West.

INCREASE IN TEMPERANCE.

Mrs. Stevens said that the past year had been one of notable progress toward total abstinence in this country. Increased numbers of railroads have prohibited the use of liquor by their operatives and increased numbers of railroads, especially south of Washington, D. C., decline to serve liquor on their dining and buffet cars. Another evidence of the progress of abstinence is the discrimination by life insurance companies against users of any intoxicants. Mrs. Stevens urged that the organization as the next step of progress petition steamship companies to bar the use of liquor among their operatives, especially among officers and crews of passenger carrying ships.

Mrs. Stevens declared prohibition does prohibit, offering as best proof the fact that the liquor trade is always and ever united and incessant in its efforts to prevent prohibitory laws. Mrs. Stevens declared that the high cost of liquor is to some extent due to the cost of importation.

She urged every member of the organization to wage incessant warfare against the white slave traffic, which she said goes hand in glove with the liquor traffic and gambling.

Quoting military authorities to fortify her contentions, Mrs. Stevens urged that renewed efforts be made to prevent the repeal of the army anti-contraband law.

FIRST TRAIN RUNS.

SUISUN, Oct. 19.—The Vallejo & Northern railway ran its first train from Boynton into Fairfield yesterday afternoon. The distance is six miles. Trains will be running between Suisun and Vacaville inside of 30 days. The first trains will be steam drawn, because the trolley wires are not yet in place. Daily trips will be made between Suisun and Fairfield from this time forward. The people are highly pleased to note the coming of the Vallejo & Northern.

RECEPTION IS GIVEN PASTOR

Congregation Greets Rev. W. P. Grant at East Oakland Church.

A reception was tendered Rev. W. P. Grant, D. D., new pastor of the Twenty-fourth Avenue Methodist Church in the church parlors Thursday evening, by members of the congregation. Several pastors of the denomination were present, including Rev. S. D. Hutchins, Rev. Robert Burley, Rev. E. J. Bradner, Rev. J. E. Wright, Rev. Connor and Rev. A. J. Winsor. A musical program was given. Mrs. J. E. Wright rendering a vocal solo and Miss Anna Wagner a piano solo. A ladies trio also rendered selections.

Rev. Burton V. Palmer, former pastor of the First Congregational Church of Fullerton, will be succeeded by Rev. A. A. Ross of Boston, Mass. Rev. Palmer resigned July 1, following the custom of the church, which requires the resignation of a pastor when a new church is built. His place has been filled by Rev. A. Watt of Marquette, who has acted as deputy pastor. Rev. Roy's successor, G. E. Tunas, chairman of the board of trustees, has been appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for a reception in honor of the new pastor.

The lectures and sermons being given by Rev. Earl D. Sims at the Melrose Baptist Church Forty-seventh Avenue and Bond street, are being received with great favor. He will speak three times on Sunday, illustrating his sermons, and on Monday night will lecture on Japan, Korea and the Argentine Republic.

THE MEDDLER

ALL over the nation politics enters largely into the social activities of the day, and on our coast it is quite the same as in New York.

The busy autumnal season is now at its height and people in society are either in active pursuit of outdoor recreation, as a sort of bracer for the coming winter months of entertaining or engaged in the task of opening town houses. Many city residences have already been opened, and it appears now as if the fashionable districts will have resumed their normal semblance by the first of November.

The political campaign is drawing more people to town than usual and while there will be numerous house parties in the country over election day, still the tendency nowadays is for society to interest itself in politics, somewhat after the English fashion. There are more prominent society women today campaigning in New York than ever before, and where the father and son are keenly interested in the outcome, it is quite natural that the feminine side of the house should show their enthusiasm in more ways than one.

The social campaign will not begin this year until after the victory has been acclaimed in the political field, and the dust of conflict has settled. Of course, between now and election day, there are to be scores of smart weddings, but the majority of these are to be celebrated in the country. People go to weddings these days as they run up to town to choose their new frocks, as an agreeable duty. It is all very pleasant to drop into the church, or reception, and meet old friends after the summer, extend best wishes to the bride and congratulations to the bridegroom, and incidentally study the new creations in frocks and bonnets. Of course, some people go to large church weddings as they go to the gorgeously furnished salons of the Place Vendome and the Rue de la Paix in Paris, to watch the models go by in a dress exhibition. But the weddings this fall have all been rather simple in tone, and the delightful informality heightened by a rural background.

DONOVAN-COOGAN WEDDING BRILLIANT.

Along the line of informal weddings of those that are bright this season, and wonderfully interesting—was that of Miss May Coogan and Mr. John J. Donovan, which took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride at Linda Vista. There is always such whole-souled genuine hospitality in the Coogan home, that it made a splendid environment for a wedding that held in its heart happiness and joy. The home was very lovely with great chrysanthemum blooms, and the library, where the ceremony was performed, was made into a lovely bower, with superb white chrysanthemums and greens. The ceremony was performed in a most impressive manner by Rev. Edward Dempsey, and there were present the relatives and closest young friends of the bride and groom. The wedding ceremony was set for 8 o'clock, and that hour, the wedding company having assembled, the bridal procession moved down the stairway to the well known music of Lohengrin.

The way was led by a charming little flower girl, Miss Marian Goodfellow, and she was followed by the Misses Marjory and Helen Coogan as bridesmaids, and by Miss Elsie Everison as maid of honor. The bride came in alone, and behind her were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogan.

Pink has always been a favorite color of the bride, and so the color tone of the gowns of the attendants were in lovely shades of pink. Their gowns were of charmeuse, beautifully trimmed in crystals and lace, and they carried lovely bouquets of pale pink roses with lilles of the valley added to the effect of the hand-made costume.

The bride's gown was a rare creation of white charmeuse exquisitely trimmed in point lace. There were

Mrs. Carroll also read a mesque composed by Miss Rhoda Cockcroft, entitled "The Death of King Redwood," written against the commercial spirit at holiday times in sacrificing the young redwoods.

Mrs. Kate Buckley acted as chairman, and in the receiving party were Mrs. Merritt Day, Mrs. D. B. Huntley, Mrs. T. R. Scupham, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Mrs. Guy Earl, Mrs. T. H. Gayles, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. W. D. Huntington, Mrs. Harry Brewer, Mrs. E. N. Englehart, Mrs. W. A. Wood, Mrs. E. D. York, Mrs. A. C. Posey.

The actors were the guests of honor at a large round table in the largest room after the "show," when coffee and sandwiches were served and everything talked over with enthusiasm by the large number present.

MRS. HARRY EAST MILLER ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. Harry East Miller entertained on Thursday at bridge, which was followed by an informal tea, the guest of honor being Mrs. Edward Hale Campbell, formerly Miss Little Strong.

Mutual friends of the hostess and her guest were invited for the afternoon, and Mrs. Miller was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. Harrison Clay.

Mrs. Campbell is to remain in Oakland until after the holidays, and many afternoons complimentary to her are being planned.

Mrs. Walter Starr recently gave a bridge afternoon for her at the Claremont Country Club, entertaining fifty guests in her honor.

The Walter Starrs are planning to build a new home at Piedmont, and they will take up their residence there some time next year.

MISS ETHEL JOHNSON IS BRIDE OF DR. BRINCKERHOFF.

October seems, indeed, to be the month of weddings, and one of the largest church weddings of the season was that of Miss Ethel Johnson and Dr. Elmer Brinckerhoff, which took place on Thursday evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, in East Oakland. Over 500 invitations had been sent out for the wedding, and the church was crowded rying a basket of pink roses, and the bride's attendants followed the way of the little flower girl, and they were Miss Charlotte Hurd, Miss Irene Schweer, Miss Elizabeth Orrick, Miss Elizabeth Wilcox, Miss Dorothy Knight.

It was a pink wedding, the gowns of the attendants reflecting the pink color tones, with draperies of dewdrop chiffon in panner style. They all carried great bouquets of pink roses, caught with streamers of pink tulle. The costumes were specially well designed and were most effective.

The bride's gown was planned along very original lines and was most effective. It was an imported lace gown over charmeuse satin with a long train of the satin, the bodice showing an effective arrangement of rare lace. The long tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and the bride's bouquet was of lilies of the valley and bride's roses, and it was fastened with great bows of wedding tulle.

One of the most beautiful gowns at the wedding, and one that was greatly admired, was that of Mrs. Erwin Brinckerhoff, who made a study full of dignity in sweetness. Her gown was of white chiffon over gold satin, very beautifully trimmed in pearls. Miss Ethel Brinckerhoff, niece of the groom and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Erwin Brinckerhoff, was one of the most attractive of the younger girls at the wedding. She is a winsome girl, and she looked very pretty, indeed, in her gown of point d'esprit over pink charmeuse. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson, followed the ceremony, and a hundred of the close friends of the family were welcomed at the Johnson home. It is one of the historic homes of East Oakland.

Among those who assisted in receiving the guests at the Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Jenks, Miss Charlotte Playter. The wedding reception was a delightful affair, arranged along charming lines, for so many oldtime friends of the family assembled to wish the young people much happiness in the future. Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Brinckerhoff are to make their home in this city when

MRS. HIRAM JOHNSON GUEST AT SAG HARBOR.

From Sag Harbor comes the following news of people we know:

"Mrs. Hiram W. Johnson, wife of the vice-presidential candidate of the of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Havens of Piedmont, Cal., took a short automobile ride yesterday, but was not at home to reporters.

"The wife of the governor of California is in Sag Harbor strictly for rest and recreation and foregoes all social engagements or pleasures. Mrs. Johnson expects to join Governor Johnson in October."

MRS. S. T. ALEXANDER IS PIEDMONT HOSTESS.

One of the important receptions of the week was that given on Wednesday at Piedmont, when Mrs. S. T. Alexander entertained a large num-daughter's schooltime friends might have an opportunity of meeting her. The Alexander home is very spacious and one of the most superb homes of Piedmont, and there was a very brilliant assemblage in the large drawing-room to greet Mrs. Waterhouse to make only a brief stop. Among the guests were her friends, and there were also many guests at the reception from Piedmont. Mrs. Waterhouse leaves in a few days for her home in the Islands, and if she could have remained longer many complimentary affairs would have been planned for her.

Here they are entertaining friends from time to time. At this season, when the vines turn to exquisite crimson and gold, nothing prettier than a sloping acreage of grapevines could be imagined.

Palmer of Plymouth Congregational church. The drawing-room will be adorned with quantities of pink roses, carnations and chrysanthemums. Fifty relatives and intimate friends will witness the ceremony.

The bride, who is very attractive, will be gowned in a very becoming dress of white charmeuse, made with the draped effect, old lace being used in the skirt and bodice, which lace formerly adorned the wedding gown of the bride's two sisters, Mrs. Burr Bass and Mrs. Rita.

In place of the conventional veil, will be worn a corner or osmanthus vine, showered with orange blossoms, will give the finishing touch to a very delicate costume.

Miss Belle McWayne of San Francisco will be the only attendant, while Herbert Haas will attend the groom as best man.

After an elaborate supper, Haas will take his bride on a honeymoon, the destination of which is a secret. The couple plan to make their future home in Texas.

MYSTIC SHRINERS REVIVE MEMORIES OF ARABIA

DRILL IS THE FEATURE OF NOTABLE EVENING

Aahmes Temple Ball in Pavilion Has Gorgeous Setting

Through the portals of the Mystic Shrine Arabia came last night to Oakland! Imagine a great splash of saffron and blue on kaleidoscopic humanity of 1,100 strong, framed in an oasis of greens, surmounted by 2,000 twinkling electric globes; add to this riot of color the harmony of a military band that blows brass as it should be blown, set the whole in a fringe of national colors, pulsating electric flags and a gigantic floral crescent and scimitar, and you have a faint idea perhaps of what the Mystic Shriners of Aahmes Temple did last night in battle-scarred Piedmont pavilion. The Shriner's have a reputation for Balaclava-like skill in the difficult art of entertainment. They trace their origin to a prank of New York actors who desired to have fun with a belated member of the profession, and ever since then the scarlet fez with the star and the inverted tiger's claws has been a symbol of diversion in this world of sameness. Wherever the Shriners are, there lies the Mecca for the weary comrade.

Thus it was that the band concert and military drill of Aahmes temple was a page from the "Arabian Nights" with all the mystic lights and atmosphere and the Bedouin patrol that moved automaton-like to the genii's magic wand. There may be a better drilled patrol than those pantaloons figures that tramped last night behind Captain Charles T. Poulter and Adjutant Charles Staubes, but you could not convince anyone of the fact who was present last night and watched the evolutions.

The exhibition drill was easily the attraction of the night, eclipsing even the lavish decorations and the grand march that covered the polished floor with as distinguished a gathering as the old pavilion will ever boast.

For an hour the Aahmes Arab patrol, clad in picturesque garb of blue, plush with yellow facings and turban, wheeled, marched and counter-marched on the slippery floor, keeping perfect alignment and performing intricate maneuvers that kept the applause rippling from the crowded gallery and the tiers of spectators around the walls.

ENTHUSIASM IN DRILL.

Captain Charles C. Poulter uttered the stern commands that sent the little squadron tramping about the floor just as the Arabs do in the circus to the infinite delight of young and old, only the Aahmes nobles drill with the vim of enthusiasm nerved to the occasion.

Marching on to the floor to the stirring music of the Aahmes band, the hour's exhibition was opened by the drummers with guard mount and inspection, conducted by Illustrious Potentate F. W. Bilger, Harry Main Green, Illustrious potentate of Islam temple, San Francisco, and Commander Poultier. The drill followed with two divisions on the floor. In turn came executions of the spectacular formations of the star and crescent emblem of the Shrine, the Maltese cross, and the letter A, the initial letter of Aahmes. As the patrol faced into the latter formation amidst tumult of applause and the shout of "Aahmes" the pop of the photographer's flashlights furnished a fitting response. Again and again the most difficult military formations were executed faultlessly, murmurs of amazement and admiration testifying to the appreciation of the audience.

DECORATIONS ELABORATE.

Oakland need have no fear of her representatives if Aahmes patrol ever joins in competition with its brothers.

There must have been considerable theatrical talent in the personnel of the committee on decorations, for the first arrivals last night found the uncompromising rafters and bare walls of the old pavilion replaced with the paradise which only a pastmaster in the art of stagecraft can conjure up. From a center piece consisting of an illuminated national flag consisting of electric bulbs found their way to a hundred places on the ceiling and walls, linking in turn with a fringe of Oriental lanterns, thus forming an incandescent canopy of light that showed the scene in all its beauty.

Twelve great hanging baskets of ferns alternated with suspended American flags and clusters of varicolored lights suspended from above. The walls were cloaked in a fence of greens, while at one end was the stage where the musicians sat amidst another bower massed with bunches of yellow chrysanthemums. Facing each other at the two ends of the pavilion were the insignia of the order, the blazing blue star and the sword and crescent fashioned from blossoms entirely.

It was little wonder, therefore, that the band played at its best and revelry was king.

CONCERT OPENS FESTIVITY.

Preliminary to drill and dance a concert program under the direction of Bandmaster Willard T. Pidwell found an attentive and appreciative hearing. Selections from Koven's "Foxy Quiller" and Ellenberg's "Marche Turque" caught the fancy of the crowd and won great applause.

Then came the patrol with its hour of military precision, to be followed in turn by the grand march. In the lead of the half thousand couples were Noble Frank W. Bilger and Mrs. Bilger, Noble Rudolph W. Meek and Mrs. Meek, Noble Joseph R. Knowland and Mrs. Knowland, Noble Edward C. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, Noble Harmon Bell and Mrs. Bell, Noble William H. Waste and Mrs. Waste, Noble Robert Greig and Mrs. Greig and Colonel J. K. Ritter and Mrs. Ritter.

At the conclusion of the grand march the strains of "Skipper Suse Green" droned across the big hall and the marchers melted into the familiar two-step.

During the few short hours that followed the Shriners and their guests mocked at dull care and gave themselves up to the witching lure of waltz, two-step and schottische, disbanding finally and leaving one more memory on the calendar of the Mystic Shrine.

Dr. George Stratton Says International Policemen Will Protect Nations.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 19.—Professor George M. Stratton of the department of psychology has contributed to the American Association's subject matter on law which has just been issued by that society under the title of "The Double Standard in Regard to Fighting." In the booklet he says:

"It is a puzzling fact that international conduct is so often judged by far lower standards than are the acts of individuals. We have here a strange doubling of the criterion of honor, analogous to that double of standard which we find in the established schools. Violence and bribery, that occur only among individuals without the pale of international conduct, are found among the established nations of intercourse with honored nations. Men who would not dream of making war upon their country and its people indeed suffer great loss and he proud to suffer it rather than obtain their rights by such a method as that a nation should even be ready to assert its claims by blows."

A person who would be a hero with an individual, is shown presented in national form, at once proclaimed shameful and unrighteous.

International life is still in the swashbuckler stage. Each people is bold and boasting and spurned, while looking shamed and this is the way to peace.

"The higher standards are not something merely of the future. They have already brought it to pass that a permanent and impartial tribunal will be available in cases of international dispute. And their work will go on until there is also available an impartial military force to protect the single nation from aggression. Until then the state will rightly hesitate to imitate in all things the international. For he has been made confident and secure by long experience of an independent power interested to enforce his rights.

And this, which is wanting to our present nation, will be done when there is also available an impartial military force to protect the personal standard of conduct inapplicable to the nation's life. But the deep desires of humanity are indomitable, and the longing for international law and order, duly becoming the intent will force aside this last obstacle to the full recognition of the higher standard."

COLONEL EXPLAINS.

"This is as near the antithesis of my position as any declaration well could be made," said Roosevelt. "I explained, in my position in my Milwaukee speech, when I said, in effect, that the idea had been that there be passed into law or that the German anti-trust act should be amended in such a way that there could be a definition of what was wrong, eliminating the 'rule of reason' feature; that there should be this commission, which would have the power to 'sit in' on the company's books and business, and should have the right to bring about obedience to the law when infractions were found.

"I am in favor of the new laws or the amendment of the Sherman law to provide such supervision as is contained in the La Follette-Lenroot amendments; I would provide in the statute provisions which said: 'This thing is wrong; or that thing is wrong'; I would not have left to the guess of a jurist of any man or men the determination of what was wrong or right and 'reasonably wrong' or 'reasonably right.'

"If for instance a corporation should be crushing out competition I would have the statute say point blank, with no loophole for escape, that the corporation was guilty.

"I would have the commission enforce the law much as the Interstate Commerce Commission enforces the railroad rate and reduce laws, with power to set that the statutes were obeyed.

TO INVESTIGATE BOOKS.

"I would have the commission empowered to look into the books of a corporation whose acts were questioned, so that the responsibility of that corporation and its methods of conducting business would be at all time within the view of those whose duty it is to enforce the law.

"I find I am accused of wanting to give the commission the power to fix prices. I do not want now to provide that. I fancy the commission would be sufficiently busy for a time in enforcing laws, and that it would not want to concern itself with prices.

"Then I would provide this industrial commission with funds and power to put upon the back of the corporation so that the government would know whether the law was violated and the further power to compel corporations to observe the law.

"That would put corporations under as complete control as the railroad situation is today."

ABLES OUTGAMES MILLER AND OAKS WIN ANOTHER

Big Jawn, Abbott, Helling and Coy Help Jumbo Along in His Defeating of Billyum's Gang

It's an old saying that you can't keep a good man down. Well, this goes for a ball team, too, for the Oaks, after a game, hard fight that was up hill nearly all the way, came through with a rally that put them on the long end of a 3-to-1 score and made the series two all with the Seals. To pick out your hero again is a hard task, for all the boys did well, but Big Jawn Teidemann, Ody Abbott and Gus Helling deserve the most of the cheers and applause.

It was Bullet Miller for the Seals and Jumbo Ables for the Oaks, and Jumbo won the battle, though he was hit in the ribs in several of the first innings. When he settled down, though, the big fellow showed a fine sunny game and deserved all the good things that were said of him.

As for the Bullet, he pitched one of those air-tight games that has made him a star. He did not allow a hit until the eighth inning. Then his pitcher went down and the strain was too much for him.

FOUR HITS DID THE TRICK.

With the score one all with the opening of the final of the old interleague went on to fit to Corbin and let us know and say that it was a great catch that Corbin made of the pop-up that Leard cracked.

It was better, for he held the ball far enough away to make his sailing easy to second base, and friend Hank gave him a two-bagger in the bottom of the ninth, cut near center, and Abbott romped.

That broke up the tie and was the game, but Gus was anxious to get around, so he did not run, and the boys did not mind a little extra time.

The cincher up of the auto was next to the firing line, and Gus took one mighty swing at that ball. The blow was hard enough to carry it to the top rail of the grandstand, cut near center, and Abbott romped.

As for our first tally, it was scored thusly: Big Jawn poled one in the second inning that was almost a Homer but as it failed to clear the fence by a foot and a half, it was a single.

Cook hit to Wulfel and beat the ball to first. On the play John went to third. Vinnie Ward, next to the bat, almost got a timely hit to Mendorf. In right field a double ended out. While got no hits. It was a sacrifice fly, though, for Big John romped to the rubber.

PROTEST IS SILLY ONE.

When Big John romped over the rubber all the Seals raced to the plate with a wild dash. They had the ball, but the foul ball was in Mendorf's hands. Casey couldn't see it that way, nor could the rest of us, at least some of the rest of us. J. C. Cook, however, did not think John was away before the catch, and he yelled long and loud at the umns, but to no avail, for Casey was firm and the run went.

We know now how some people take an umpire's ruling—in the sixth Schmidt behind the bat committed one of the most noticeable errors ever seen in a baseball game. It is to his credit, however, that the Tribune is the only paper to give no hit. It was a sacrifice fly, though, for Big John romped to the rubber.

The boy score of yesterday's game in the Tribune today is the only correct one, and the fans will be glad to know that the pitcher who is to be the best for him and the Tribune is the only paper to give him credit for it.

It was Big John that gathered the most of the applause yesterday for his two batters started the first run to the rubber and his hit in the eighth helped the good cause greatly. Oh, yes, Coy Abbott, and Helling hit well.

The Australian footballers were guests of the League and enjoyed the game immensely. Lionel A. Wolf of A. G. Spaulding is acting a host to the boys and giving them a real live old fashioned California time.

Each pitcher fanned eight men while Harry Ward, Vinnie Ward and Mendorf fanned four. Abbott, the best for him and the Tribune is the only paper to give him credit for it.
